Dear Herb:

Prior to my visit, I had heard much of the hospitality and friendliness of the people of New Orleans. You, however, are the human personification of those wonderful attributes. The food you prepared was obviously a labor of love due to its excellence and quantity.

During my brief visit, everything was superb and I want to tell you how much I appreciated your contribution to that maximum effort.

Please call me when you come to Washington so that I can teach you how to eat gourmet Chinese.

Thanks once again. See you soon.

Sincerely yours,

Thomas I. Demery
